NOTICE to all Costumers! Be this your first convention or your hundredth (or more) please consider entering this year's Masquerade. There is no prohibition this year on wearing your costume before the Masquerade. So, even if you've only brought that one outfit and you are wearing it all weekend, come find out the feeling of being on stage with your favorite fans in the audience. All entrants must come to the Masquerade Registration Table in the Lobby between 3 and 9pm Friday or from 10am to 1pm on Saturday. Come early. Come often.

Be sure to sign up for your Tech Rehearsal time (tech rehearsals end early on Saturday, so don't wait until the last minute). Not sure you want to compete? Come talk to us anyway!

Fan Photographers wishing to photograph masquerade entrants during the Masquerade are requested to come by the Masquerade Registration Table in the Lobby to sign up for a space. Thank you.

A Non-Cautious Tale

Joe walked briskly down the corridor, unaware of the danger lurking nearby. As he passed it, a door opened with a sad, rusty croak. A tentacle, green and dripping ichor, encircled his leg. Joe screamed. He felt something pierce his skin. There was a warm, tingling sensation as the venom entered his blood – then blackness.

That isn't quite how we get volunteers for Arisia. A lot of fans volunteer because they know how important volunteering is for running a successful convention. Or for the wicked cool T-shirt, the free membership to Arisia '08, or other cool stuff you can earn by working at Arisia this year. Whatever your reason, come visit room 205 to sign up—even an hour or two will help.

Join us. Join us now, puny humans. Your souls am belong to us.
